

Because a family's love is good medicine.

For families who want to be at the bedside of their hospitalized Veteran, few can afford extended stays in a motel to do so. Yet their love, support and presence are essential for healing.

A free "Home Away from Home"

Fisher Houses provide a free "home away from home" for families who have travelled far from home to be at the bedside of their Veteran while they are receiving medical care from the VA. The Fisher House at the Veterans Affairs Medical Center at Jefferson Barracks opened in 2010 with 20 guest suites. Since then, it has served 14,000 guests and saved them more than $12 million.

Planning a second Fisher House in St. Louis!

The 70-year-old VA medical campus at John Cochran (JC) in Grand Center is on track to have major renovations soon. This will increase the number of patients coming in from across the Midwest for essential medical care. The St. Louis VA Executive Team has said that they would like to have a second Fisher House in St. Louis, alongside JC. The timeframe for this is still several years out.

Fisher Houses are built using private money, not government funds, so the Friends of Fisher House St. Louis has started fundraising for this new 16-suite house, which is estimated to cost $10.5 million. The Friends board has started raising this, with the community's help. Donations are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. The organization is identified as a 501(c)3 non-profit organization by the IRS. EIN 01-0881719. Learn more at www.FisherHouseinStL.org
